AN ALPHABETICAL
DESCRIPTION OF THE QUALITIES
OF THE

ACME,

OR

NONPAREIL

Royal Patent Metal-Studded
BOOTS AND SHOES,

SOLD AT

No. 11, Giltspur Street, London.

Acme Boots and Shoes you'll find

Better than any other kind—

Cheap because so long they wear,

Durable and good they are;

Easy to the tenderest feet,

Fitting well, and made so neat;

Genteel and fashionable too,

Handsome whether Boot or Shoe;

Impenetrable to wet and rain,

Japan-like lustre they retain,

Keep out the damp, yet are made

Light as the lightest in the trade;

Metallic Studs at toe and heel,

Nonpareil called, of tempered steel,

Outwear all iron nails and tips,

Preventing many falls and slips.

Qualities rare they do possess,

Riding, walking, or for dress;

Strong, lasting, firm; some have a doubt,

Tough as they are, if they e'er wear out;

Univalled, they increase our speed,

Velocipedes no more we need;

Waterproof too—if you get a pair,

Xcelling all others they will wear;

You'll find the truth I really tell—

Zounds! they're the Acme or Nonpareil.
